THE BROOKLYN QUERY.

Mr. and Mrs. Tilton Seeking a Divorce.

"Henceforth Our Paths Are Apart."

COMMENTS AND HEADSHAKINGS.

Mr. Edward J. Ovington, of Brooklyn, in whose tamily Mrs. Tilton is now residing, published in the Brooklyn Aryus last evening the following card announcing Mrs. Pitton's separation from her bus-

BROOKLYN, July 15.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ARGIS:

DEAR SIR-I desire to correct the following statement which appeared in your issue of yesterday:

More REVELATIONS.

Mrs. Titton's appearance before the Plymouth church pommittee is understood to have been brought about in this way:

Mrs. Titton is on intimate terms of friendship with the O.'s, who are well known attendants at Plymouth thurch and ardent admirers of Mr. Beecher. Occasionally they took wised with any of the charch with whom she me in contact.

In view of the above it devolves upon me to clare most amphatically that the appearing of s. Titton before the committee was an act seed a pon her by no one, but entirely voluntary by part; and, inrther, that it requires no person from any quarter to induce her now to and upon the side of truth, honor and justice, wish to state also, upon my knowledge of the ts, that mrs. Titton informed Mr. Tilton, on Sating morning last, that in consequence of the tree had taken "henceforth their paths were art."

apart."

I desire further to add, that though disapproving of the stand Mr. Tilton has taken in this matter, he has been and is a frequent and welcome visitor
at my house. Yours truly,

EDWARD J. OVINGTON.

In addition to this card the HERALD reporter earned that the question of the legal separation of r. and Mrs. Tilton is now in the hands of Mr. N. B. Morse, formerly Judge of the Court of Appeals. Judge Morse is the stepfather of Mrs. Thiton, and has been her husband's intimate friend for many years. Mr. Thiton left the whole matter to Judge Morse, to act as Mrs. Thiton's connsel. Mr. Thiton declines to employ an attorner of his own, saying that his wife shall possess the house and all its contents, that the enlidren may reside with her in some semblance of the old home. Mr. Thiton will reside at home, and his house will be managed by his eldest daughter, Miss Florence Thiton, until the papers of separation are executed in legal form. Morse, formerly Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Mrs. Tilton's Withdrawal from Her Husband.

[From the Brooklyn Eagle.] Mrs. Tilton left her husband's home, in Living-ston street, last Friday morning, and went to rende at the house of Mr. E. J. Ovington, in this city. The children remain with Mr. Tuton for the present, and the household affairs, under the supervision of an old servant, proceed as usual. Mr. Tilton remains at his home, bustly engaged in preparing his promised letter. He has not been to sew York for the past five days, and seldom leaves has study. Fritoay morning Mrs. Tilton gently communicated her proposed withdrawal from his roof, and soon after they quietly separated. Mrs. Tilton declines to make any public statement of the reasons which have induced her to take this step, but she is understood to say privately, that life with a man who kept dragging her mae through the mire of controversy became intolerable. She was prepared to suffer at the hands of strangers, but when her husband joined the band of defamers the felt constrained to move in her own interest. She deems it not less a duty to herself than to her children to show in what estimation she holds those who have been trying to make her name a byword in the world. ent, and the household affairs, under the super-

It is due to that gentleman to say that he has never been connected directly or indirectly with the preparation of any article or report of the Beecher-Tilton matter that has ap-meared in these columns.

The responsibility of divulging them belongs not to me, for I would rather keep them buried. "Is Mrs. Tilton in the city*" the reporter asked.

"I believe so," was the answer.

"Are the children with you of Mrs. Tilton?" inquired the reporter.

"They are with me," said Mr. Tilton.

"When will you appear before the committee with the statement?" the reporter inquired.

Mr. Tilton handed a letter to the reporter, of which the following is a copy, Mr. Tilton saying as the passed it, "That will answer your question":—

Redpath and His Friends Beecher and Tilton.

James Redpath denies that he brought overtures of settlement from Mr. Beecher in order to effect a compromise, and explains the mystery of his appearance at a very early hour in Mr. Til-ton's house by the fact that he is the old-time friend of both Mr. and Mrs. Tilton, and is a re-quent guest attheir house, as he was on this occ-sion. Mr. Redpain stayed with Mr. Tilton both before and after his visit to Mr. Beecher, at Pecks-kill, whom he left Boston to visit on business ex-clusively.

HAVEMEYER'S TROUBLE.

The Governor's Communication Unanswered-Progress in the Gardner-Charlick Indictments-Commissioner Davenport's Anxiety.

The Mayor yesterday afternoon stated to a representative of the HERALD that he had not yet completed his answer to the Governor's communi cation. He admitted that it was in course of preparation and would, he expected, be complete in time to forward to Governor Dix by the end of the week. It might be, he said, that it would not be ready until Sunday morning, for he did not see any necessity for any great hurry, especially as the charges were very voluminous and he required time to think over and frame his reply to them. He did not icel the slightest uneasiness as to what the result would be, for he knew he had done his duty in every way and therefore did not worry about it. In fact, so little did he think even about it, he said, that he SLEEPS LIKE A BABE every night, unaccused by his conscience of any evil or wrong act. "I could," said the venerable joker, "give you the story of the whole matter which led to this action on the part of those who them run out their rope—it pleases them, perhaps, and it don't nurt me." The Mayor also stated that and it don't nurt me." The Mayor also stated that he was engaged in preparing a communication to be laid before the public, in which would be embodied the result of his examination of the affairs of the department of Charities and Correction, a summary of that made by the Commissioners of Accounts and the opinions of Messrs. Jonathan Sturges, W. A. Booth and Howard Potter, who had been present with him during the investigation. The Mayor said he did not wish to anticipate his proposed letter, but he would state that he was of opinion that had been made of the manner in which the affairs of the Department of Charities and Correction had been conducted; but, so far as he had been able to find out, it was "aft cry and no woot," he would be ready, he thought, to hand his report to fine newspapers to-merrow evening, so that it might be given on Friday morning to the public.

GARDER AND CHARLICK.

would be ready, he thought, to hand his report to the newspapers to merrow evening, so that it might be given on Friday morbing to the public.

Garder and Charlick.

The question as to whether Messrs. Gardner and Charlick should be indicted for additional violations of the Election laws was again under consideration by the Grand Jury yesterday. A whole army of witnesses were in attendance for examination, among whom were John Kelly, General Duryee. Colonel Wingate, ex-Commissioner Russeil and Chief Clerk Hawley. The latter, who had with him the minutes of the Police Board relating to the time when the offences against the law were alleged to have been committed, was, however, the only witness examined. The remainder were told that their services would not be required. From all the indications there is reason to believe that three new indictments will be found and presented to the Court to-day against the two ex-Police Commissioners.

LITLE JOHNNY.

Commissioner John L. Davenport, the diminutive Chief Supervisor of Elections, was found yesterday in the District Attorney's office, which, by the way, he appears to have completely taken possession of since Mr. Phelps has gone on his vacation, for the purpose of being on hand to advise Assistant Lyon, to wbom has been deputed the duty of advising the Grand Jury, &c., upon the election irands business, stated that he had neard nothing more about the charges watch had been presented against him. He did not know anything about the matter at all. He could not conceive what the charges were about and did not care, either. He intended to keep his own connsel and wait developments. That he has been able to so far rest quietly until such developments occur does not appear to be the case, judging from the following correspondence, which will be found somewhat interesting, especially from the discourtesy exhibited by the intile Commissioner:—

Assuming this to be correct, I presume the effort proceeds from parties whom you represent.

If ham right I have the honor to request that you will at the earliest possible moment blace me in nossession of copies of all such papers and affidavits for whitever kind or character! as may have been presented to Judge Woodruff. I request this, not only that I may be made acquainted with whatever may be charged against me, but to the end that I may facilitate in every possible manner the inquiry you seek.

I am ready now, and ever have been, to meet representatives of Tammany Hall or any body of citizens who desire to question my official action; and of one thing you may be fully assured, if I live—and I don't mean to die until I am oone with this—I shall not resign, but shall give you all the work you want during so much of this summer as may be necessary to go into this matter to the fullest possible extent.

If you will allow me, I will furnish the cierical force necessary to make such copies myself. Please answer, Respectually yours, Dran Sin—In reply to your note of the 13th inst. I would state that you are correct in assuming that the effort to remove you proceeds from parties whom I represent. I shall have much pleasure in complying with your request to inruish you with copies of the papers handed Julge Woodrud as soon as practicable, which, as they are short if not sweet, will not take very long office can supply.

I am obliged to you for your assurance of giving me all the work I want for the rest of the summer. It recails to me a remark of some whatthe same defiant character you made to me at the commencement of the Charlick and Gardner trial, and which the result thereof somehow wholly failed to bear out. I accept the omen. Respectfully yours.

GEORGE W. WINGATE.

Colonel Wingate, who has charge of the proceedings against Davenport stated that other steps had been and were being taken, but at present he was not in a position to make them public, by which Commissioner "Johnny" would be brought to understand that he would not be allowed to commit outrages against the law with impunity and then turn round and laugh and sneer at his accusers and victims.

The friends of Mesyrs, Gardner and Charlick have

The friends of Messrs. Gardner and Charlick have for several days past, been endeavoring to secure an indictment against General Duryee on the ground that he also voted for the removal of Election Inspector John Shendan, for which Gardner and Charlick were convicted. They contend that he is equally guilty. The Grand Jury have, it is understood, examined a number of witnesses in the case, as well as the records, but have determined to find no "true bill." This attempt to drag General Duryee into the same mire as the two ex-Commissioners has been prompted, it is said, by a desire to obtain revenge. The friends of Messrs. Gardner and Charlick have

CHARITY AMONG THE BULLS AND BEARS. It is sometimes hinted by narrow-minded critics that there is a small development of conscience among the habitues of the Stock Exchange. However that may be, and it being a matter outside of a HERALD reporter's duty to sit in judgment on that elastic commodity which the great dramatist tells us "makes cowards of us all," cords no verdict in this case and leaves it an open cords no verdet in this case and leaves it an open question for the cashists. He, however, cannot iall to note the fact, attested by the conductors of many of our noblest charities, that the buils and bears have

HEARTS OF THE SIGGEST KIND.

When they put their hands into their pockets for charity they grasp the greenbacks with the whole hand instead of fashing them out with the thumb and one finger. This is emphatically illustrated by the subjoined correspondence recording the generous gift of more than $1,500 to the Poor Children's Excursion Fund, a collection from the members of the Stock Exchange. There is no picayine element in their kindly generosity. If the conscience gangers criticise their methods of business, those who measure hearts will score high for the occupants of the New street hall, and the children of the poor, whose happiness they secure, will rise up to bless the desiers in stocks. With this gift the poor children of the city are assured of five more excursions, the find aggregating $4,816 38. The following letters speak for themselves:—

HYDROPHOBIA.

McCormick's Case-A Jury of Medical Men-The Doctors Do Not Disagree.
At the preliminary inquiry held some time ago in the case of William McCormick, a butcher, late of No. 369 East Fifty-first street, supposed to have died from hydrophobia caused by the bite of a dog a few weeks previous, the Coroner, considering it to the advantage of science and sanitary purposes, thought fit to postpone the examination and em-pannel a jury of ten of the most eminent men in the city. The reinvestigation took place yesterday at the Coroner's office in East Houston street, commencing at two o'clock and lasting until six P. M., when, after a large amount of testimony had been taken, the Court was again postponed till Friday evening, in order to allow the jury to prepare their verdict and offer such opinions as the case suggested for public information and guidance. The various that the man had been bitten by a dog some few weeks previous to the appearance of the serious symptoms immediately preceding his demise. But whether the dog that had butten him was rabid or not no satisfactory proof could be obtained. The animal more especially suspected is still allye and healthy. This suspicion rests mainly on the word of one Kelly, who was present at the time McCormick received the scratch on his hand. This man has been since convicted at the Special sessions, and some of the witnesses yesterday declared that he was not a person to be beheved on oath, and on the whole the accusation against this particular animal, which belongs to william Mason, a livery stable keeper, residing at No. 418 East Forty-inith street, was of a most unsubstantial character, the owner and others giving positive evidence as to its gentleness and continuous healthy condition. Mr. Marriott, keeper of the dog pound, was inclined to connect with the case a brindle dog brought to the pound about the time it is said McCormick received the wound. The brute was reported as having bitten some persons, and appeared suspiciously salky and uncomiortable. But beyond this slight coincidence Mr. Marriott was unable to state anything further to bring this unfortunate cur in connection with the case ander inquiry. The animal had been immediately dethat the man had been bitten by a dog some few was unable to state anything further to bring this unfortunate cur in connection with the case under inquiry. The animal had been immediately destroyed, and no full proof could be adduced as to the rabidness or identity. The medical evidence on the history, treatment, autopsical and microscopical examinations of the case was long and minute. At the conclusion of the testimony there was a unanimity of opinion among the memoers of the jury that everything went to establish the fact that accormick came to his death from hydrophobia, caused by the bite of a dog, but whether such animal was rabid or not no definite information had been presented.

rabid or not no definite information had been presented.

Dr. Frank Hamilton acted as foreman of the jury, consisting of Dr. Meredith Clymer, Jacobi, Crosse and others, whose names have been already inraished. The investigation was conducted by Coroner Kessler, aided by Acting Coroner Leo. John McCormick, brother of the deceased, stated that his brother never mentioned the fact of his having been bitten; the wound must have been of the slightest sort.

Michael O'sulhivan, a bartender at No. 230 East Forty-seventh street, testified that some twelve weeks ago McCormick and Kelly came to his saloon for some brandy to pour on a wound caused by a dog bite on the former's hand; Kelly said the dog belonged to Mr. Mason; the wound seemed like the scratch from a pin.

dog bite on the former's hand; Kelly said the dog belonged to Mr. Mason; the wound seemed like the scratch from a pin.

The Coroner here stated he had made great efforts, but up to the present without success, to get at and produce Kelly. Dr. Alexander Hadden's evidence was a recapitulation of that given on the previous occasion and his report read at the Neurological Society. He was fully convinced that if any such distinctive disease as nydrophobia existed the deceased had certainly died from that. All the symptoms were undoubtedly manifested. In this outnion Dr. Hadden was corroborated by Drs. Leavitt and Hammond, who had also attended the patient. Dr. Hammond's minute microscopical examination of deceased's brain disclosed fatty atrophy of the cell structures in the cortical substance, cerebellum and nerve roots, showing granular matter, oil. vesicles and amyloid corpuscles, circum stances attendant on hydrophobia, but not absent in other diseases. William Mason, Sr., William Mason, Jr., and their servant, Timothy Conkin, testified to the uniform gentieness of the dog accused by Kelly as the evil doer and its perfect health up to the present time.

After some remarks from the Coroner, calling the attention of the jury to the system of precaution against canine rables in European cities, the case was adjourned till eight P. M. on Friday next.
